

Alwani Lectures on Muslim-Christian Dialogue
At Howard University School of Divinity

WASHINGTON THEOLOGICAL CONSORTIUM

Crossroads of Faith, Learning and Dialogue

Tuesday March 8, 2016 6:00-9:00 pm

Dr. Sulayman Nyang

Dr. Nyang explores the Post-colonial legacy of African Nationalism and how it has shaped Interfaith relations, especially those between Muslim and Christian communities. To what degree are religious conflicts manipulated or fueled by nation-states and how can peace- building dialogue be restored and sustained, especially in regions of intense conflict.

Dr. Kwakye-Nuako will offer a response from a Christian scholar's perspective.

Sixth Taha Al-Alwani Event for Muslim-Christian Dialogue

Post-Colonial Nationalism in Africa and its Impact on Interfaith Dialogue

Dr. Sulayman Nyang

Professor of African Studies, Howard University

Response from Dr. Kwasi Kwakye-Nuako

Assoc. Professor of World Religions
Howard University School of Divinity

Venue: Howard University School of Divinity 2900 Van Ness Street, NW Washington, DC

Event begins on main floor (#1) of Holy Cross Hall.
Use Parking lot that serves Law and Divinity Schools or take Metro Redline to Van Ness Street, walk east.

Lecture, Response, Discussion
Full Reception follows

RSVP to wtc@washtheocon.org or call 202-832-2675

For more information and directions visit <http://washtheocon.org/events/>