Reframing the Civil War:
Religion, Race and Culture

Tour and Panels related to the new
Seminary Ridge Museum,
Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg

Join colleagues for a guided tour of the new, world class museum of religion, culture, and the Civil War in Gettysburg. Hear panel discussions about the educational mission of the museum on an historic seminary campus, its unique role in addressing issues of religion, race, and culture related to the War and its aftermath, and implications for ongoing theological issues of American exceptionalism, human suffering/theodicy, and racial reconciliation. Presentations by Gettysburg and Howard faculty on Bishop Daniel Payne, religion, and emancipation.

Overnight accommodations available, if desired.
