

Washington Haggadah (1478)

Dear Consortium Librarian Colleagues,

On behalf of the Librarian Faculty Group of the Consortium, we would like to invite to a guided tour of the Hebraica exhibit at the Library of Congress: “Words like Sapphires.” We have the opportunity to visit (just before the exhibit ends) on:

Thursday April 4, 10:15 a.m. at Library of Congress:

101 Independence Ave. SE,
Washington, DC
(near Capitol South Metro)
Meet main Jefferson Bulding, carriage (street level) entrance.
(can request parking—limited—
at cada@loc.gov )

This is a unique display of 100 years of Hebraic at the LOC, begun by Jacob Schiff years ago. Join us for the exhibit, a visit to the Digitized Collections used for research, and lunch to follow. Please RSVP to one of us, or at wtc@washtheocon.org.

Thank you,

James Estes (Wesley)

Cheryl Adams (Library of Congress)
